RED BEND SOFTWARE, INC.'S RESPONSE TO BIS'S FIRST SET OF REQUESTS FOR PRODUCTION OF DOCUMENTS AND THINGS

Pursuant to Rules 26 and 34 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, Defendant Red Bend Software, Inc. ("Red Bend") responds to BIS's First Set of Requests for Production of Documents and Things (Nos. 1-34) as follows:

GENERAL OBJECTIONS

Red Bend makes the following general objections to each document request:

1. Red Bend objects to these document requests to the extent that they seek to impose obligations on Red Bend inconsistent with and/or beyond the scope of those imposed or authorized by the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure or the Rules of this Court.
2. Red Bend objects to these document requests to the extent that they seek disclosure of information that constitutes work product, is protected by the attorney-client privilege or is otherwise privileged or protected from discovery.
3. Red Bend objects to the definition of "Red Bend" to the extent that it includes any entity other than Red Bend Software, Inc.

4. Red Bend objects to the use of the term "BIS" as vague and ambiguous, as that term is not defined.

5. Red Bend objects to the use of the term "Accused Software Products" to the extent that it includes products or services as to which BIS has not set forth a basis or a claim for a contention of infringement of the '239 patent.

6. Red Bend's responses to these document requests are hereby made without waiving or intending to waive, but rather, to the contrary, preserving and intending to preserve:

(a) All questions as to the competence, relevance, materiality, authenticity and admissibility as evidence for any purpose of the information contained in each and every document request, or the subject matter thereof, in any aspect of this or any other court action or judicial or administrative proceeding or investigation;

(b) The right to object on any ground to the use of any such information, or the subject matter thereof, in any aspect of this or any other court action or judicial or administrative proceeding or investigation;

(c) The right to object at any time to a demand for any further response to this or any other request for information; and

(d) The right at any time to supplement this response.

7. Red Bend objects to these document requests to the extent they seek disclosure of information that is neither relevant nor reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence.

8. Red Bend objects to these requests to the extent that they are overly broad and unduly burdensome.

9. Red Bend objects to these requests as vague, ambiguous and/or unintelligible.

10. Red Bend objects to these requests to the extent that they seek documents that contain confidential, proprietary or otherwise sensitive information belonging to Red Bend. Red Bend will only produce such documents subject to an order of the Court protecting the confidential information contained therein.

11. Red Bend objects to these requests to the extent that they seek documents that contain confidential, proprietary or otherwise sensitive information belonging to third parties and subject to a confidentiality agreement.

12. Red Bend objects to these requests to the extent that they seek information and/or identification of documents already known to BIS or available to BIS from documents in their own files or from public sources.

13. Red Bend objects to these requests to the extent that they seek production of documents generated after the filing of the Complaint, that are contained in the files of Red Bend's in-house or outside counsel, and other documents prepared by them or at their request or obtained by them after the commencement of this action, on the grounds that such documents are protected from disclosure by the attorney-client and/or attorney work product privileges, and other applicable privileges and exemptions.

14. Red Bend's responses are based upon information presently known to it. Red Bend reserves the right to rely on any facts, documents, or other evidence which may develop or subsequently come to its attention, to assert additional objections, and to supplement or amend these responses. Red Bend also reserves the right to object to the further disclosure of any document and/or information. Further, the production of any document or thing in response to these requests does not constitute an admission that such document or thing is responsive to the requests.

15. Red Bend's agreement to produce documents responsive to any particular request is not a representation that such documents exist.

16. Each of the above General Objections shall be deemed continuing and is incorporated into the specific responses set forth below, whether or not specifically stated in response to each request, and is not waived or in any way limited by the responses below.
